Anthony Leatherwood decided in the seventh grade that he was going to attend Georgia Tech and become an engineer. Throughout his schooling Anthony worked hard, with unwavering focus and in 1990 his dream came true. Initially, due to his love for computers, Anthony pursued a degree in computer engineering. While working towards this goal, he started a part-time job with a durable medical equipment company. While delivering equipment to patients, Anthony realized what a blessing it was to be able to bring comfort to people at end-of-life. This was the beginning of a healthcare career that would forever become his passion. After advancing within the medical equipment community, Anthony learned of an opening with a local hospice organization, Vista Care Hospice. At that time he had no real idea of what “hospice” or “palliative” care meant, but he had an eagerness to serve others and a passion for the terminally ill. In 2004, Anthony began his devotion to hospice and palliative care which would last until his untimely death in August of 2012 at the young age of 41. While serving as President of the Board of Directors for the Georgia Hospice and Palliative Care Organization, Anthony was diagnosed with an aggressive form of cancer. At the time of his passing Anthony was serving as the Executive Director of Gentiva Hospice. As a hospice and palliative care administrator, Anthony was able to share his passion of caring for patients and their families with others. He led his organization with character and a determination to see all patients receive end-of-life care second to none with both compassion and dignity. As GHP CO Board President, Anthony was recognized as a true leader whose vibrant vision for continued growth and vitality helped the organization flourish. Anthony is survived by his loving wife, Stephanie, and two sons, Gavin and Harrison Leatherwood, along with many family members and countless friends.

The mission of this scholarship is to further Anthony’s legacy and the passion that he had for hospice care. The scholarship recipient will be awarded full attendance at the following Georgia Hospice and Palliative Care Annual Conference, including the pre-conference sessions. In an effort to assist as many people as possible, the scholarship does not include lodging or meals; however, a discounted room rate is available through GHP CO on a first come first serve basis.
